World Day for Safety and Health at Work QCTC Qatar- 2024

We commemorate the World Day for Safety and Health at Work on April 28, advocating for preventing occupational accidents and diseases. This day emphasizes our commitment to cultivating a strong safety and health culture within our organization. Aligned with the ILO's theme on "The Impact of Climate Change on Occupational Safety and Health of Workers," we acknowledge the challenges climate change poses to workplace safety.

Our HSE Department initiated the discourse, engaging both workers and senior staff on Health and Safety impact of Climate Change through a training and awareness session delivered by our colleague Jacinta Onwuewke (QEHS and Welfare Associate).

Subsequently, we were privileged to host Engr. Jamui Badmos, an esteemed international speaker; a versatile QHSSE Professional and Sustainability executive, whose presentation focused more on strategies of safeguarding our workforce amidst changing climate

The key takeaway is the need for innovative actions to address sustainability, climate risks, and occupational health and safety (OHS) risks. Participants received certificates, symbolizing our shared commitment to prioritizing workplace safety and health.

We thank all participants, including top management, for their active involvement.

Let's act now to save lives!
